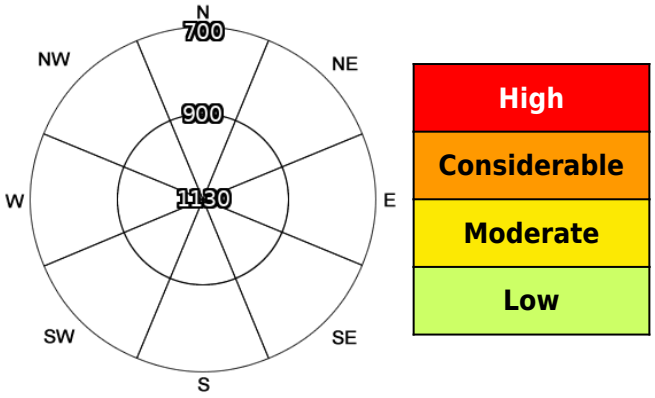
Forecast Snow Stability & Avalanche Hazard

Currently there is insufficient snow cover to present any avalanche hazard and avalanche reports will not be issued for this area until the situation changes. Go to the Blog and Mountain Info for area photos; area info will be provided by SAIS forecasters on a daily basis.



Forecast Weather Influences

Very strong Westerly winds. Precipitation is expected throughout the period. This will fall as snow above around 900 metres until just after midnight when the freezing level will rise well above all summits and heavy rain will fall at all levels.

Comments

Most of today's snow will melt tomorrow as the freezing rises above all summits and rain falls at all levels.
