Avalanche Problems

Forecast Snow Stability & Avalanche Hazard

The patchy snow will continue to slowly thaw but will be generally well bonded and stable throughout. Any remaining cornices will pose a threat due to the potential for collapse. Very little snow will be encountered below 900 metres. Greatest amounts will be present on the highest plateau areas and in high North to East facing corries. The avalanche hazard will be Low.

Forecast Weather Influences

Dry and mild with the freezing level remaining well above the summits. Strong Southerly winds, backing South-South-Easterly during the afternoon.
