

THE AVALANCHE HAZARD WILL BE HIGH

Avalanche Hazard Forecast for Wednesday 23/02/2011

Avalanche Problems

Forecast Snow Stability & Avalanche Hazard

Heavy rain will produce wet snow instabilities on many aspects above 900m. Avalanches will occur mainly on steep North-West, North and North-East aspects. Other aspects will also be affected. The avalanche hazard will be High

Forecast Weather Influences

A period of rain at all levels with the freezing levels above the summits. Strengthening South-Westerly winds

Comments

Conditions deteriorating fast overnight and during Wednesday

View the latest avalanche report

Scan the QR code to view the full Avalanche Hazard Report on the SAIS website.