

THE AVALANCHE HAZARD WILL BE CONSIDERABLE

Avalanche Hazard Forecast for Wednesday 25/01/2012

Avalanche Problems

Forecast Snow Stability & Avalanche Hazard

There will be a very unstable period overnight with most of the snow becoming moist at all levels and aspects. During the day instabilities will persist in deeper areas of snow on mainly North Easterly to South Easterly aspects above 750 metres. Remaining cornices and falling ice will be a significant hazard. The avalanche hazard will be Considerable

Forecast Weather Influences

There will be strong winds from the South with heavy rain at times.

Comments

Due to start cooling again later in the day.

View the latest avalanche report

Scan the QR code to view the full Avalanche Hazard Report on the SAIS website.