

THE AVALANCHE HAZARD WILL BE LOW

Avalanche Hazard Forecast for Friday 04/01/2013

Avalanche Problems

Forecast Snow Stability & Avalanche Hazard

The snowpack will continue to thaw. Stability will generally be good. However, any remaining cornices will be prone to collapse in the mild conditions. The avalanche hazard will be Low.

Forecast Weather Influences

After some rain during the night, a dry and very mild day is expected.

Comments

Summit temperatures of up to plus nine degrees expected tomorrow.

View the latest avalanche report

Scan the QR code to view the full Avalanche Hazard Report on the SAIS website.