

THE AVALANCHE HAZARD WILL BE LOW

Avalanche Hazard Forecast for Tuesday 05/03/2013

Avalanche Problems

Forecast Snow Stability & Avalanche Hazard

The snowpack will remain refrozen and tightly bonded above 800m. Very good stability in all locations. The avalanche hazard will be Low

Forecast Weather Influences

Little change. Remaining cool and dry throughout. Winds will be light variable.

Comments

Some large cornices still in place over East to South aspects and most remain frozen for the time being.

View the latest avalanche report

Scan the QR code to view the full Avalanche Hazard Report on the SAIS website.