

THE AVALANCHE HAZARD WILL BE MODERATE

Avalanche Hazard Forecast for Saturday 30/03/2013

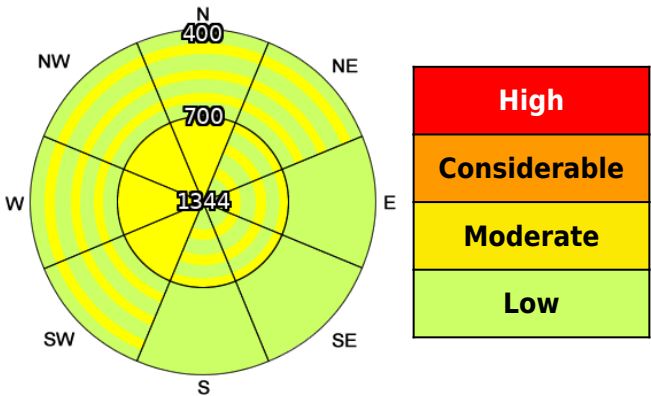

Avalanche Problems

Persistent Weak Layers

Forecast Snow Stability & Avalanche Hazard

Areas of moderately bonded windslab will be present on many steep South-West through West to North aspects above 700m. Localised deposits will also be present on other aspects. Many South-East and East aspects will be generally stable. The avalanche hazard will be Moderate

Forecast Weather Influences

Remaining cold and dry with freezing at all levels.

Comments

Cold settled weather expected to continue through into next week.

View the latest avalanche report

Scan the QR code to view the full Avalanche Hazard Report on the SAIS website.