

THE AVALANCHE HAZARD WILL BE MODERATE

Avalanche Hazard Forecast for Monday 16/03/2015

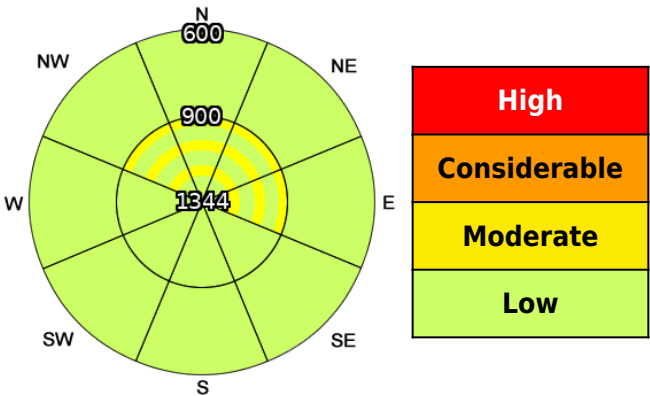

Avalanche Problems

Persistent Weak Layers

Forecast Snow Stability & Avalanche Hazard

Localised accumulations of unstable windslab will be present on some steep aspects above 900m, notably North and North-East but also present in other locations. Where the older snowpack is exposed, it will be frozen and stable. The avalanche hazard will be Moderate

Forecast Weather Influences

Light to moderate Easterly summit winds and no significant precipitation. It will remain cold

Comments

View the latest avalanche report

Scan the QR code to view the full Avalanche Hazard Report on the SAIS website.