

THE AVALANCHE HAZARD WILL BE LOW

Avalanche Hazard Forecast for Saturday 18/04/2015

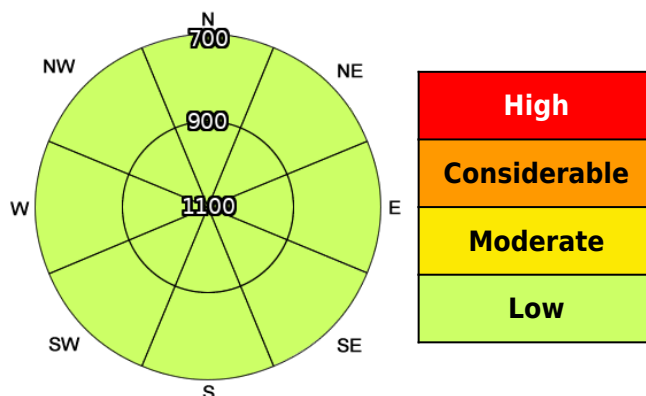

Avalanche Problems

Cornices

Forecast Snow Stability & Avalanche Hazard

The snowpack will be stable at all elevations, re-frozen above 900m. Cornices above lee, mostly North-East to Easterly aspects remain suspect in the warmer daytime temperatures. The avalanche hazard will be Low

Forecast Weather Influences

High pressure will maintain the dry settled conditions with temperatures continuing to fluctuating around summits. Winds will be light mainly East and East North East.

Comments

View the latest avalanche report

Scan the QR code to view the full Avalanche Hazard Report on the SAIS website.