

THE AVALANCHE HAZARD WILL BE MODERATE

Avalanche Hazard Forecast for Tuesday 12/04/2016

Avalanche Problems

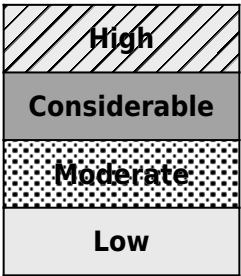

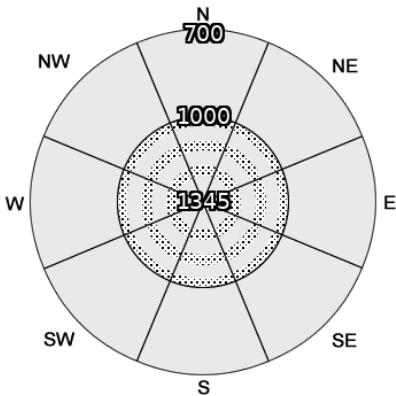

Persistent Weak Layers

Wet Snow

Forecast Snow Stability & Avalanche Hazard

Localised surface instabilities will be present on many step aspects above 1000m. Slopes exposed to solar radiation will be particularly affected. The avalanche hazard will be Moderate

Forecast Weather Influences

Light to moderate Easterly winds over the summits. The freezing level will be around the summits. No significant precipitation is expected

Comments

View the latest avalanche report

Scan the QR code to view the full Avalanche Hazard Report on the SAIS website.