

THE AVALANCHE HAZARD WILL BE LOW

Avalanche Hazard Forecast for Wednesday 27/12/2017

Avalanche Problems

Forecast Snow Stability & Avalanche Hazard

A few pockets of thin new windslab may form on some steep East to South aspects above 900m. Some of these will accumulate on bare ground and be insignificant, others elsewhere will be easy to avoid. Remaining sparse, snow patches will be hard or crusty. The avalanche hazard will be Low

Forecast Weather Influences

Remaining cold. A few isolated snow showers. Moderate North West winds.

Comments

Sparse. There's a lot of bare rock and heather covered by a dusting of snow up high,

View the latest avalanche report

Scan the QR code to view the full Avalanche Hazard Report on the SAIS website.