

THE AVALANCHE HAZARD WILL BE LOW

Avalanche Hazard Forecast for Tuesday 15/01/2019

Avalanche Problems

Forecast Snow Stability & Avalanche Hazard

The existing fresh snow accumulations will thaw quickly overnight with some localised surface instabilities developing. By Tuesday, the remaining snowpack will be wet and generally stable. The avalanche hazard will be Low

Forecast Weather Influences

There will be heavy rain at all levels overnight with the freezing level rising above the summits. Strong summit winds

Comments

A wet and windy day in prospect

View the latest avalanche report

Scan the QR code to view the full Avalanche Hazard Report on the SAIS website.