

THE AVALANCHE HAZARD WILL BE LOW

Avalanche Hazard Forecast for Sunday 23/01/2022

Avalanche Problems

Forecast Snow Stability & Avalanche Hazard

Very limited snowpack. Greatest accumulations lie in isolated patches on North through East to South-East aspects, these will re-freeze above 950 metres. Good general stability. The avalanche hazard will be Low.

Forecast Weather Influences

Remaining mostly dry and mild overnight, before the freezing level lowers slightly to around summits. Moderate to strong South-West winds.

Comments

View the latest avalanche report

Scan the QR code to view the full Avalanche Hazard Report on the SAIS website.